

Are you being bullied or are you the cyberbully?

Warning Signs of Cyberbullying

The victim complains that other people around them, not only in school, but also on the Internet, dislike them for some reason.

Being secretive about their online activities.

When someone is very concerned with friendship issues.

Not feeling well during school hours or with other school related activities.

When the victim feels he or she is inferior to others and doesn't think highly of himself or herself.

When a he or she does not want to go to school and join or participate in any after school activities.

When their time is consumed on the computer.

When he or she says they must change their clothing to help fit in with a group.

Speaking negatively about other young people.

Acting like the clique is superior to other groups of young people.

Getting in trouble at school for inappropriate Internet use.

Bragging that they use other kids passwords, as a joke. Or they use the Internet to play practical jokes.