2330 HOMEWORK

The Board of Education has always maintained that the assignment of work to be done at home is an important part of the educational program. Work that is assigned should be a review of work that has been taught or is closely related to that which has been taught in the classroom. Since class work and homework complement each other, and together build a firm educational background, homework must be assigned and taken seriously.

The development and maintenance of sound homework procedures requires the cooperative efforts of teachers, pupils, parents, and administrators. Each must share in the performance of this component of the learning process to insure that homework assignments support clearly defined school and classroom objectives and are used to reinforce and enhance school experiences.
